

RESOURCES FOR CERTIFICATION CANDIDATES

NOTE: SPSP provides this information as a tool for candidates to consider as they prepare for the certification examination. SPSP does not endorse or recommend any program or institution. These decisions rest with the individual candidate and their determination, based on self assessment, on what resources may be most helpful to them. If you have a suggested resource to include in our listings, please share: info@productsafetyprofessionals.com.

Professional Development Programs & Courses

Advanced Product Safety Management Certificate Course
Saint Louis University, Center for Supply Chain Management Studies
Contact: cscms.slu.edu or info@slueducation.org

Compliance Workshops
Saint Louis University, Emerson Leadership Institute
Contact: eli@slu.edu or info@slueducation.org

Engineering Professional Development
University of Wisconsin – Madison
Contact: <https://epd.wisc.edu>

IEEE Product Safety Engineering Society (and their annual symposium)
<http://ewh.ieee.org/soc/pses/>

Human Factors and Ergonomics Society
<http://stg.hfes.org/>

Minnesota Green Chemistry Forum
University of Minnesota
Contact: www.greenchemistrymn.org

National Safety Council
Books and education resources, including benefits from active membership
<http://www.nsc.org/facultyportal/Pages/Product-Safety-Management-Guidelines-2nd-Edition.aspx>

Product Safety Aware Program
Promotional Products Association International
Contact: www.ppai.org

Consumer Product Safety Management Certificate Course
Saint Louis University, Center for Supply Chain Management Studies
Contact: cscms.slu.edu or info@slueducation.org

Safety and Chemical Engineering Education
University of Arkansas
Contact: Sache.org/index.asp

Test lab sponsored education or training programs by CPSC-listed laboratories
Contact: cpsc.gov

Workshops, webinars, briefings, public data bases, guidance
Consumer Product Safety Commission
Contact: cpsc.gov

Government Resources for Businesses

The National Commission on Product Safety
Formed in 1967 to examine consumer risk for hazardous household products.
Resulted in the legislation that became the Consumer Product Safety Act of 1972, leading to the establishment of the U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission
<https://nixonlibrary.gov/forresearchers/find/textual/central/subject/FG171.php>

U.S. Consumer Product Safety Commission
Business Education on regulatory compliance, Periodic Workshops
www.cpsc.gov

U.S. Food and Drug Administration
Business Education, guidance documents, and data bases on regulatory compliance www.fda.gov
<https://www.fda.gov/ForIndustry/default.htm>

U.S. Federal Trade Commission
Information resources for issues including data security, privacy, advertising
<https://www.ftc.gov/tips-advice/business-center>

Symposiums and Conferences

American Society of Safety Engineers
Safety conferences and workshops
Contact: www.asse.org

Annual Product Liability Conference
University of Wisconsin School of Engineering
Contact: epd.engr.wisc.edu

International Consumer Product Health and Safety Organization (ICPHSO)
Regional, national, and international training programs
Contact: icphso.org

International Product Safety & Liability Prevention
Seminars and conferences around the world
Contact: ipslp.org/seminarsconferences.html

Product Safety
IEEE Technology Navigator
Annual Reliability and Maintainability Symposium (RAMS)
Contact: www.rams.org

Product seminars and conferences
Randall Gooden International
Contact: rlgooden.tripod.com/seminar.html

Product Safety Summit
Promotional Products Association International
Contact: www.ppai.org/education/productresponsibilitysummit

Books & Articles

Consumer Involvement and the Consumer Product Safety Act

Georgetown University Law Center
Contact: scholarship@law.georgetown.edu

Consumer Product Safety Regulation
Practicing Law Institute
Author: J.T. O'Reilly
<https://www.pli.edu> or www.amazon.com

Consumer Product Trends
Navigating product trends
Deloitte University Press
Contact: <https://dupress.deloitte.com>

Product Safety Excellence
The 7 Elements Essential for Product Liability Prevention
Author: Timothy Pine
Quality Press, Milwaukee, 2010

Updated: March 1, 2017